

SOME BAD MILK AND VILE FOODS

Out of 103 samples of milk examined by Food Commissioner E. C. Shorey in the month of August, all but three were up to or above standard. The derelict milkmen were F. Martins and A. de Costa, the latter furnishing two samples of inferior milk. De Costa was prosecuted for the second sample and fined $25 and costs.

Other than milk the following samples were examined with results as noted:

Two samples of condensed milk: both fermented and unfit for food.

One sample proprietary medicine (tasteless castor oil): nothing injurious found.

One sample of sliced ham (canned): cans swelled and contents unfit for food.

One sample of sardines: decomposed and unfit for food.

Seven samples of sewage were examined for the superintendent of sewers, and report made to him.

The flashing point of two samples of crude petroleum was determined for the Superintendent of Public Works.

THOSE FAKE DISPATCHES.

The Turk is as noted for his treachery as have become the Balkan dispatches, with which the world has recently been supplied, for their inaccuracy. Today we hear that Adrianople is burning while tomorrow comes the startling information that Ferid Pasha has carried the whole of Bulgaria off and hidden it in a dark corner. Then the man at the other end of the wire makes it hot, to the effect that eighty-five towns have been razed and the inhabitants inhumanly put to death. Next, all former "news" is called off and a new report hatched to keep the world guessing. The only authentic dispatch yet received which has any reasonable foundation on fact and which needs no alibi is, that: "Ibrahim Pasha is marching on the insurgents at the head of 100,000 Douglas Patent Closets."
